In-House Workshops

Standing out on the world-wide web can be a hard thing to do, especially with all the noise there is online. If you are struggling to find great marketing ideas or feel that your posts are just going out into a void, then this workshop is for you.

Tuesday, October 10th, 2017

9:30 – 12 noon

We will examine ways that businesses have gone viral with their marketing and how you can apply some of these strategies to your own. This workshop will get your creative juices going, and you will leave inspired to jump back into your marketing with a renewed spirit.

Join us for this informative workshop with Teresa Renee, who is the CEO and founder of Designed to Connect. As a graduate of Durham College in the Website Design and Creation Program, she has developed an online marketing company that helps small business owners Bring their Brand to Life Online.

Over the years, she has led seminars that successfully helped small business owners to harness the power of the internet and understand online marketing concepts in terms that are easy to understand.
