

Ten young entrepreneurs complete their businesses through Summer Company

With local dignitaries in attendance, students received congratulatory wishes and certificates at Joe Tomatoes in Owen Sound. The students also gave a presentation sharing their summer experience, success stories and lessons learned.

This year's Summer Company participants provided services such as lawn cutting, car detailing, ice cream and photography. Other students produced vegetables and pork, hand turned wooden bowls, hand painted greeting cards highlighting local endangered species, locally manufactured skateboards, custom painted skateboards and longboards and home decor and furniture manufactured from recycled pallets.

Keynote Speaker: Rick Smith
If marketing decisions were black and white, we'd all know what to do.

With so many choices available, how does a small or medium sized business know when to step in order to market, promote, and sustain local or even global? In this talk Rick helps you find out the most critical marketing decisions that can make or break your business.

Rick is a business consultant and entrepreneur, professional speaker and host of Market Central. Rick spent over 30 years in the advertising industry in Toronto. Today, Rick manages the advertising and marketing efforts for Grey Bruce through his business, The Business Enterprise Centre. Rick is a member of the Henry Lunney Community Centre and is a past president of the Grey Bruce Chamber of Commerce.
